

THE TASKS OF MEN

1. To admit that we have been wounded
2. To begin healing one another through examining our wounds
3. To rebuild self-esteem on deep masculine foundations
4. To break out of old stereotypes and claim our diversity
5. To reclaim the ancient sacred images of masculinity
6. To apply the myth of the masculine soul to our daily lives
7. To rediscover male initiation and heal the wounds between fathers and sons
8. To love and work in ways which heal our lives.
9. To restore a connection with our ancestors and come to terms with our mortality
10. To build male community and begin healing the wounds between the sexes
11. To develop a masculine-affirming psychology
12. To continue reawakening the Masculine Soul

Extract from "Knights without Armour" by Aaron Kipnis

KNIGHTS WITHOUT ARMOR

"Kipnis' elegant portraits of men... offer poignant support for his claims."

- The Los Angeles Times

A Practical Guide for Men